

"In the Garden"

Snoqualmie Valley Clinic WSU Master Gardeners present:

Gardening in the Shade

Facilitator: Ellon Jarvis, King County Master Gardener

Saturday, April 13, 2019

10:30 am at the North Bend Library, 115 E 4th St., North Bend, WA 98045

2:00 pm at the Sammamish Library, 825 228th Ave SE, Sammamish WA 98075

Ellon Jarvis has been a King County MG since 1993, scheduling workshops for the BDG. She attended the School of Forestry at the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho, and she worked for the airlines for 50 years before retiring in 2017. She lives on a small lake in SE King County where her home sits on a fairly steep slope surrounded by large conifers and big leaf maples offering many different types of shade.

Shade gardens don't have to be dull and boring. There are even plants that will do well competing with tree roots. You can create interest in the shade garden by using a variety of leaf textures. Ellon who has worked the shade garden at the Bellevue MG demo garden for several years will discuss selecting plants that will grow well in your type of shade. She will explain the different types of shade and how best to handle them.

Future 2019 Talks:

May 11: Kids in the Garden, Tilth Alliance Speakers : Laura Matter @ North Bend and Melissa McGinn @ Sammamish

September 14: Cover Crops with Darien Payne, MG
